LONDON
Designed by GEORGE DAVIES

We're Hiring

BUYER

A fantastic opportunity to join an established contemporary global fashion brand owned by George Davies. Our team at FG4 are all like-minded passionate individuals who are empowered to move the brand forward.

About Us

Established in 2011, FG4 is an exciting fashion brand for girls, boys, and women. FG4 is a true lifestyle brand, built around the principles of great design and great quality, with amazing attention to detail. With over 60 stores in Saudi Arabia (27 women's, 32 kids) and 6 kids stores in the United Arab Emirates and now expanded globally with womenswear into further middle eastern countries, we remain the fastest growing brand in the Middle Eastern fashion market.

Why Work Here?

If you are looking for a new challenge within a dynamic team then this is the role for you. We are located in a beautiful Cotswold studio nestled in a sleepy village away from all the hustle and bustle of city life to ensure creativity is at the forefront of our minds when product alive. We live by a fun, friendly and hard working office atmosphere.

Our product has a boutique feel which you will be involved in from start to finish and have influence on building a well-designed and very detailed range.

You will be working alongside some of the best in the business who you can learn from and get creative with.

You Will Be:

Someone who has a passion for fashion, a desire to add value to all of our stunning collections. You must have the ability to pick up new knowledge quickly and have experience in having ownership of an area. You must be confident in presenting your findings and ideas, as well applying the knowledge and experience gained from your previous role. Someone who will support across all functions within your area.

The Role

You will be working closely with the merchandising department and design department to ensure the product is booked and delivered on time and be able to bring the product to life throughout the full cycle. This role requires someone who works well under pressure. Experience will be needed from an established junior buyer/buyer who has managed and overseen their own area within the buying function and looking for that next challenge.

Main Duties and Responsibilities

- Reviewing weekly sales, with a focus on the best and worst sellers and trade actions
- Presents relevant information in weekly trading meetings to directors and managers
- Presents ranges and price work in selection and sign off meetings
- Is responsible for buying allocated areas of range within defined parameters
- Is proactive in building and maintaining strong supplier relationships, as well as driving cost price negotiations
- Works closely with merchandisers to ensure decisions based on accurate data and with specified framework
- Attend and conduct fit sessions with involvement in product development
- Liaises with eCommerce and Marketing teams as necessary to ensure productive relationship
- Have exceptional written and verbal communication skills
- Be a proficient user of Microsoft packages

What We Offer:

- Job Types: Full-time, Permanent
- Salary: Competitive
- Working for a fast-paced global fashion brand
- 28 days holiday including bank holidays (days increase with length of service)
- Private medical insurance available
- Company pension scheme
- Sample Sales
- Friendly communal snug area within the studio to give colleagues the chance to relax
- A fun and friendly team where we encourage Friday buffets and team nights out!
- A beautifully maintained studio in the heart of the infamous Cotswolds
